

The Brontë Th(under)er

VOL 13, 2016

Contents

Shirley and The Luddite Movement – Dr Andrew Shields	1
Was Charlotte Brontë A ‘Closet Catholic’? – Dr Christopher Cooper	14
The Keighley – Brontë Connection – Lynne Granger	35
Jane Matters – Christine Geitz	44
Friends of Charlotte Brontë:
Margaret Wooler – Brian Beergah	55
Ellen Nussey – Carmel Nestor	56
Constantin Heger – Michael Links	61
Harriet Martineau – Annette Harman	64
Elizabeth Gaskell – Michelle Cavanagh	66
George Lewes – Gary Corkill	70

The Brontë Thunderer

The Journal of the Australian Brontë
Association

Volume 13
2016

The Brontë Th(under)er

The Australian Brontë Association has two types of publication. The Newsletter appears twice a year, generally in June and December, and contains ephemera, film and book reviews and news of topical interest. Longer items, including the text of talks given at our meetings, appear at the end of each year in this journal-type publication, The Brontë Thunderer.

The reasons for the name of the journal are as follows. For a start it clearly contains the name 'Brontë', so readers will not be left in any doubt as to the main theme of the publication. Secondly, the name 'Thunderer' would have been well known to the Brontës as a nickname for the respected newspaper The Times of London.

Then the Greek word for 'thunder' is βροντη, or Bronte. So in Greece Charlotte might be known as 'Charlotte Thunder'. How she came by this name is interesting, since her father was born Patrick Prunty, or Brunty.

The town in Sicily, near the volcano Mount Etna, was named 'Brontë', no doubt because of the thunderous noise given out by the volcano during an eruption. Then, because Nelson won an important victory assisting King Ferdinand the Fourth to regain the throne of Naples, he received the title 'Duke of Bronte'. Lady Hamilton used to call him 'Lord Thunder'.

Patrick Prunty, or Brunty, was a young Irishman attending Cambridge University and, having a high regard for Nelson, he adapted the spelling of his name in the university register to Bronte. To add further distinction he experimented with various accents for the 'e' before finally settling on 'Brontë'.

The final reference in the name is the fact that the word 'thunderer' contains the word 'under', reflecting the fact that this journal represents the Brontë followers 'down under'.

In 1986 Fergus McClory was appointed the Australian Representative of the Brontë Society, serving the members of that society who lived in Australia, and meetings were held in Sydney from time to time. Then, in 1998 the Australian Brontë Association was formed as an independent but complementary organization, in order to expand the local Brontë activities. Our patron is the distinguished Brontë scholar Christine Alexander, Professor of English at the University of New South Wales. We currently meet at the Castlereagh Hotel in Sydney.

We have commenced celebrating the 200th anniversaries of the Brontës. This year we celebrated Charlotte's 200th birthday. In 2017 we will celebrate Branwell's.

The 2016 committee is as follows:

Patron: Professor Christine Alexander (Scientia
Professor of English at the University of NSW)
President: Sarah Burns
Vice-President: Michelle Cavanagh
Secretary: Carmel Nestor
Treasurer: Michael Links
Membership Secretary: Annette Harman
Publications Editor: Christopher Cooper

Online at: www.ausbronte.net

Enquiries can be made to the Publications Editor
Christopher Cooper
(+612) 9804 7473 or (+61) 0403 077 473
Email: info@ausbronte.net or christopher.cooper@mq.edu.au

Cover: Rosedale Moor, Yorkshire National Park.